A one-year-old boy was in the bathtub when this near drowning occurred. His mother went to get a towel and when she returned she saw his head under the water. She pulled him out of the tub and called 911. Paramedics arrived on scene four minutes later and transported him to a local hospital.

This is the 15th near drowning in Pima County so far this year.
There have also been 6 drowning incidents in 2009.

Safety Message: Always stay within an arm's reach of the bathtub when children are in it.
